

myHotspots (www.myhotspots.co.uk) - is the free, easy to use wifi hotspots directory from Uretopia Limited.

With over 6500 wifi hotspots listed, and a regular stream of unique website traffic thanks to high organic listings on related search terms, myHotspots is the destination of choice for many web users seeking information on hotspots and wireless internet technology.

myHotspots.co.uk is already a market leader in wifi hotspots information and plans to gain a larger online presence through the development of more original content, mainly on the site blog, which will take the form of news, reviews and video reviews. This represents a great opportunity for manufacturers of wireless internet related products to have their products reviewed and seen by an interested audience.
